

Photo caption

Photo caption

Photo caption

Sample copy here: HVAC company has been serving our community since 1984. We provide our customers with personal service and the latest in building control technology. We offer complete design, installation, and maintenance services. You can also call on us for 24-hour emergency service.

Your logo here

What should you expect?

iStockphoto

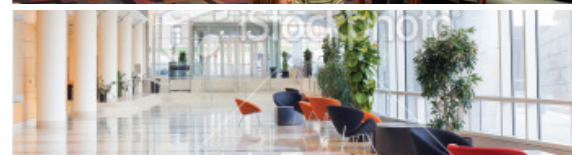

Your logo here

An ideal fit.

Every building owner's control needs are different. Some expect the capabilities of a big, broad-based HVAC controls company. Others want to work with someone they know, who understands their business.

As your local Johnson Controls Authorized Building Controls Specialist (ABCS), we fit both of those requirements.

We can deliver the Johnson Controls product line, along with the independence and flexibility of a local HVAC contractor.

A broader choice.

From thermostats to building automation systems, we provide direct access to the vast selection of products offered by Johnson Controls. So you can count on the latest control technology. High quality. And the stability of working with the world's leading building controls and equipment company. Plus, this high level of product performance is backed by our local engineering expertise

Hands-on service.

We've built a strong reputation here in our community for a high standard of personal service and customer satisfaction. We're ideally positioned to adapt to the unique needs of each job with the speed and agility you expect from a local service provider. As an ABCS, we'll deliver the quality and flexibility necessary to meet your requirements for a productive, comfortable and efficient building environment. And to meet your cost-control needs, we have the ability to maneuver through mid-course corrections and smoothly navigate any job changes.

Focused expertise.

This is your chance to work with a company that knows your business. We focus on specific segments in the local market that complement the efforts of the local Johnson Controls office. We have a firm grasp of advanced building control and automation technology. You're assured of working with professionals who possess the technical ability to handle your long-term building controls requirements.

A local team.

(name of ABCS) has been serving the needs of building owners for (years). We not only provide the full line of Johnson Controls products, we work with a wide range of customers in the community, including (schools, hospitals, churches, prisons, casinos, commercial buildings). Our capabilities include (Choose from below or add others):

- Engineering and design
- Project management
- Temperature controls
- Energy management
- Building equipment and controls installation
- HVAC parts and service
- Preventive maintenance
- Emergency repairs

ABCS photo option area: building, trucks, staff, logo

FOR MORE INFORMATION OR PROJECT QUOTES CONTACT:

PHONE NUMBER
Email